

Lindsay Ayres Todd is an associate in the Austin office of Fletcher, Farley, Shipman and Salinas, LLP. She brings to the firm diverse litigation experience, having represented defendants and plaintiffs in state and federal courts throughout the states of Texas and California. Lindsay's experience includes insurance defense litigation, construction defect, government liability, products liability, employment discrimination, law enforcement use of force, business litigation, personal injury, premises liability and general negligence cases.

She has successfully tried a number of cases to verdict in both state and federal court and has extensive alternative dispute resolution and negotiation experience.

She earned her J.D. from Baylor University School of Law, and her B.A. in History and B.S. in Radio/TV/Film from the University of Texas at Austin. In law school, she was given

The Order of the Barrister.

Professional Associations and Memberships

Austin Bar Association
State Bar of Texas
State Bar of California
Travis County Women's Lawyers Association

Areas of Practice

Business Litigation
Construction Defect
Government Entity Defense
Insurance Litigation
Insurance Defense

Education

J.D., Baylor University School of Law
Waco, Texas, 1993

B.A., University of Texas at Austin
Austin, Texas, 1990

B.S., University of Texas at Austin
Austin, Texas 1990

Bar & Court Admissions

Texas
California
U.S. District Court Northern District of Texas
U.S. District Court Southern District of Texas
U.S. District Court Western District of Texas
U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals